The Story

The aliens have returned to spoil the holiday season for all of the little boys and girls. After successfully brainwashing Santa and turning him into their evil minion, the aliens are threatening to take over the world. Realizing that they need assistance, the aliens team up with FEM (Female Elven Militia).

A telegram alerts Duke Nukem to the horrible plan. Without any hesitation, Duke springs into action.

The Levels

Déjà vu – A familiar winterized version of the original, only backwards!

Where it All Began – Los Angeles with snow? What are the aliens up to?

Land of Forgotten Toys – Welcome to the frozen tundra, Duke.

Santa's Corporate HQ – Check Santa's list to see if you've been naughty or nice.

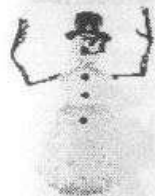

The Backdoor – There's always a way in, but sometimes you have to get a little bit wet.

Christmas Village – The villagers here don't appear to be very friendly.

Here Comes Santa Claus – And he's packing some holiday punch.

New Enemies

Nuclear Winter offers six new enemies to tangle with.

The Snowman – They taunt, they tease, and they throw snowballs as they please. They're nothing a few pistol rounds can't handle from a distance.

Flying Frosties – The cold cousins of the Assault Commander. These sinister snow demons attack with a frozen bite.

Frosted Battle Mobiles – What happens when you mix a nasty frosty with an armored snowmobile? You get one pissed off pile of snow.

Grunt – Evil elves that pack a lot of heat. These members of FEM (Female Elven Militia) want to show Duke where he can stuff his stocking.

Groans – Often found proceeding a bunch of grunts, these FEM's brandish two shotguns. Keep your distance and shoot and scoot to stay alive.

Evil Santa - He's fast, he's mean and he packs a punch. Carrying everything from a Ripper to a Rocket Launcher, this is one jolly old elf that needs a beating.

Of course, all of your old favorite enemies are back decked out in holiday attire.
